

- Commission, site-specific mural, Mayor's Office, Boston City Hall, 8th Floor, Boston, MA July/August 2020

<https://news.northeastern.edu/2020/08/04/inspired-by-her-mothers-battle-with-cancer-she-paints-a-mural-in-boston-city-hall/>

Artist Sophia Ainslie brightened up the eighth floor of City Hall with a new mural this past summer. As an extension of her project, she documented the reactions of City employees who walked by, and took photos of them with the mural.

Sophia Ainslie

Ainslie works between drawing and painting, between figuration and abstraction. Her work focuses on the connection between diagnostic imaging technologies and landscape, interior and exterior, and the microscopic and macroscopic. She melds observation with imagination resulting in a relationship of connections and disconnections between black mark making and flat color, stillness of shape and active mark, movement and space.

Ainslie is represented by Gallery Naga.

- As an extension of the above City Hall site-specific mural, I documented City employee's reactions as they walked by and took photos of them in front of the mural. Boston Mayors Office Virtual exhibition

Sophia Ainslie: Virtual Mural Exhibit, 8th Floor Boston City Hall

Sep 11-16, 2020

