

- Group exhibition, (re)Tell, Hallspace, Dorchester, MA
February 13-March 20, 2021
To read all submissions, please click link: https://www.hallspace.org/retell\_stories21

(re)Tell

Invitation To Tell A Story.

February 13 –
March 20, 2021

Life is filled... filled with stories to share.

Whether humble or heroic, stories are our windows into insights and memory. They are bridges to one another. They help us preserve the past and influence the future. Stories can be funny, scary, informative, historical, they can make you smile, cringe, laugh; they can make you angry or hopeful.

In honor of Black History Month, HallSpace invites you – people of all ages and from all walks of life – to submit your own short stories about people or places or experiences, about objects and events that honor life's glory or struggle, about your own, or your family's successes, failures, and hopes; stories about your grandest wishes and smallest desires.

Each 8½ x 11 (letter size) page, whether hand-written or typed will be posted and exhibited at Hallspace, and online throughout February for others to read and ponder and learn from.

Tell your truth.

We look forward, with your help, to make this a spirited and moving exhibition. Thank you.

HallSpace
950 Dorchester Avenue
Dorchester, MA 02125

HallSpace exhibits work by emerging and distinguished artists and designers. The gallery collaborates with artists, designers, and curators who have an idea for a project or installation.

hallspace.org
617 288 2255

HallSpace was a risky experiment in 1996, when it opened in a hallway on Thayer Street, in the SOWA District of Boston's South End. Now, HallSpace is located in historic Dorchester, Boston's largest and most diverse neighborhood.

(re)Tell Stories 2021

- Sophia Ainslie: The Voice of the Nation
- Ron DiRito: Dispatches From Within [Our] Four Walls
- Ron DiRito: In The Beginning
- Ron DiRito: Who Am I?
- Philip Gerstein: Stories From The Studio
- Don Gropman: Road Trip
- Bill Himelhoch: Bad
- Ellen M. Johnson: Canopy
- Sarah Boden Kopec: The Land of Misfit Toys
- Kimiko Lee: It Can Not Be Helped
- Veronica Mills: The Great Divide
- Sarah Milton: The Only Item On Me
- James Ari Montford: Dark Matter
- Christine Palamidessi: The Melodeon
- Hugo Pellinen: слово гастроном (Word Deli)
- Zaruga Philips: My PTSD
- Zaruga Philips: The Headscarf Speaks Its Mind
- Catalina Viejo Lopez de Roda: Arrival
- Jessica Saab: 20

